The News from Maine. At this writing (midnight) the news from the Maine election yesterday is coming in very favorably for the Republicans If it holds out as it is running it promises to give them a clear majority over the allied opposition Democrats and Greenbackers. This is a great achievement. The Cincinnati Gaselic figured out yesterday that if they should elect their ticket by 100 majority they will effect a gain which, carried out in Ohio, would elect Foster by 45,000 ma

3 r. u. - Our closing dispatches at this hour indicate pretty clearly that the Republicaus have carried the State, including the Legislature and Executive Council; While it may require an official count to determine whether the Republican candidate for Governor has obtained a majority over both his competitors it in tolerably clear that he is elected by the popular vote, and still more clear that the Legislature is sufficiently Republican to insure his choice. Taking into account the obstacles which the Republicans of Maine have been called to meet, their victory, is the more gratifying, and its effects ought not to be lost upon elections which follow.

He thinks that the present boom in business may carry prices in iron and other merchandise still higher than at present but at the same time does not feel that anybody can see very far ahead these days. He shares in the apprehension exed by many that we may carry them to a point where importations may again come large, and thus make this country once more what it was prior to the panic.

THE SILVER BOLLAR

A Cry Against Its Circulation—The Treas ury to Befuse It from National Banks. Washington, September 7.—For two veeks past contractors have been using silver dollars freely in paying their hands. This, with the disbursements from the Treasury, is making the coin so plent that even the most extreme silver advocates are crying out against it. To-day the Herald, always a vigorous silver paper, now calls on the Treasury to let the silver follars remain there, and says there is no necessity for its actual circulation, and that a metallic currency is insufferable to a highly civilized people. It styles the payment of 10 per cent of salaries in silver lollars an insufferable trick. It insists that no one has asked to have these dollars aid out, and they were never demanded or a circulating medium. Hereafter silver dollars and silver certi deates are to be refused by the Treasury from national banks of account of the 5 pe ent fund, or on account of any indebted ess whatever due from the he overnment, except when the indebted ness shall have been a deposit in kind b ome disbursing officer in a national bank as a United States depositary.

Mr. Henry Roemer was quite severely hurt with a stone Sunday evening. He was coming from the Wheeling street cars to Benson's ferry, just at dusk, when he was much surprised at receiving a blow from a stone just back of and above the sye. The wound bled profusely, and, with a very slight deviation in the course of the stone, might have been serious. The stone was probably thown in pure wantonness. A man was seen to run down an alley just then. To Mr. Roemer's inquiries for a policeman, it was answered that there were none in that part of the city. If people of the kind who threw the stone have taken up their quarters in that part of town, it were well if some policemen came, too.
